

Lime Legal is proud to announce the publication of the definitive work on pensions on family breakdown, written by three of the foremost expert practitioners in the country.

Pensions on Divorce

Law, Practice and Precedents

David Salter, Mills & Reeve
Maggie Rae, Clintons
Robin Ellison, Pinsent Masons

Foreword by the Rt Hon Sir Mark Potter,
President of the Family Division.

About the authors

For separating spouses and civil partners, pensions are often a vital consideration. They may be the most valuable potential asset that a family has. It is imperative, therefore, that the family lawyer, advising a client on divorce or family breakdown, deals properly with the consequent pension problems and opportunities. But pension schemes are not designed to cope with family breakdown, and pension legislation and industry practice are fraught with complexity.

In this important new title, three of the country's leading experts combine their wealth of knowledge and experience to provide family lawyers with everything they need to handle the pension aspects of family breakdown. Covering the law, practice and procedure relevant to everyday and more unusual cases, this immensely practical work will become the essential handbook for all practitioners advising couples on divorce, nullity, judicial separation or dissolution of a civil partnership.

The text is fully up to date and supplemented by a score of invaluable precedents, together with all the relevant legislation and guidance.

David Salter, partner and joint head of family law at Mills & Reeve. David has a national reputation as one of the country's foremost expert family law practitioners on the treatment of pensions on marital breakdown. He is the past chairman of Resolution's pensions committee.

Maggie Rae, partner at Clintons, London. Maggie is a member of the Government's Consultation Panel on pensions and divorce and was a special advisor to the Social Security Select Committee in relation to pensions and divorce. She is a member of the Resolution money and property committee.

Robin Ellison, solicitor and head of strategic development for pensions at Pinsent Masons Solicitors. Robin is chairman of the National Association of Pension Funds and he was founder member of the Association of Pension Lawyers.
